

VISITORS DINED ON THE lawn of Fairfield's historic Moody-Bradley House during the History Club's annual pilgrimage.

PROVIDING VISITORS WITH replicas of Civil War era goods from jewelry to canteens was suttler Ray Maust, right. Visiting the suttler shop was Civil War reenactor Chris McCulloch.

Trinity Star Pilgrimage . . . Historical gathering

A luncheon, vendors, melodrama and fashion show were all part of the 39th annual Queen of the Trinity Star Pilgrimage hosted Saturday by Fairfield History Club.

The event, a fundraiser for the club, was held at the historic club-owned Moody-Bradley House in Fairfield.

The pilgrimage started with a luncheon on the lawn of the plantation-style house that was built in 1860 by Col. W.L. Moody and sold after the Civil War to his father-in-law, F.M. Bradley.

A children's style show was held on the front steps with fashions provided by Kennedy's Korner of Fairfield.

The melodrama, a part of the pilgrimage every year, gave a fictionalized account of Freestone county starting just prior to the Civil War with Col. Moody's arrival in Fairfield.

Fairfield high school student Morgan Fuller, daughter of Mike and Jina Fuller, played some selections on the fiddle.

Vendors and a demonstration blacksmith set up

PERFORMING THE HISTORICAL melodrama on Saturday were students from Fairfield high school. The play gives a fictionalized account of Freestone county starting just prior to the Civil War with Col. Moody's arrival in Fairfield.

shop on the house lawn. Confederate Veterans The Val Verde Battery camp fired a cannon salute at the end of the event.

Kenneth HUGHES

for City Council

Time for change. Time for putting Fairfield first.

ELECTION DAY MAY 9

Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Kenneth Hughes, 722 Post Oak Rd. Fairfield, Texas 75840

ENTERTAINING THE CROWD was fiddler Morgan Fuller. Miss Fuller was a student at Fairfield high school and the daughter of Mike and Jina Fuller.

DEMONSTRATING SKILLS OF his trade was blacksmith Ken Lane of Mexia who set up shop at the Moody-Bradley House during Saturday's annual event.

Nothing says...

I Love You, Mom

better than Charles Dickens.

Lismore Perfume

The bottle is also a Beautiful Bud Vase

- Perfume & lotion Gift Set
- Perfume in 1.7 or 3.4 oz.

25% off
All Diamond Jewelry

Special Gifts for the Special Grad!

Luggage

JON HART DESIGN

Watches

SEIKO
CITIZEN
PULSAR

Seiko Alarm Clocks

- Key Rings
- Money Clips
- Leather Wallets
- Pocket Crosses
- Picture Frames
- Pen & Pencil Sets

FOSSIL

50% off

100 W. Oak • Downtown
903-729-8796
M-F 10 - 5:30/Sat 10-3
www.charlesdickensjewelry.com

"Palestine's Oldest Jewelry Store"

Visa - Mastercard - Discover - American Express