Nominating committee named . . . CAR sets March 21 meet

National Society Children of the American Revolution met recently to hear a program called National Observances, a presentation about why some of the nation's holidays are celebrated.

The meeting was called to order by president Cady Cotton, and invocation was given by Chad Baize. Last meeting's minutes were read by Emily Walker and a treasury report was offered by Carson Cotton. After the program, CAR members discussed the new nominating committee, which will include Jonathan Hardin, DAR members Diane McDonald, Rita Walker, and Nancy Rula. The meeting was closed with a benediction given by Emily Walker.

Next meeting will be held on March 21 at 2:00 p.m.

Bonnets, cakes to be judged at center

A cake contest and an Easter bonnet competition are on tap soon at the Meals on Wheels/Palestine Senior Activity Center.

Events will be held at the center, located at 200 N. Church St..

Cake judging is March 20 and includes several divisions. Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third places. Proceeds will benefit the Meals on Wheels program.

An Easter bonnet competition will be held at the center's annual Easter party, set April 1 at 10:30 a.m.

Easter bonnets, which should be completed when brought to the party, will be judged by most creative, most beautiful and wackiest.
